

BUGNO, EGGERT CAPTURE ILLINOIS OPEN TITLES

Both First Time Champions Cool Under the Pressure

In a girls finale that featured two high school standouts from two states, Highland Indiana junior Samantha Bugno defeated Aurora Illinois senior Abby Ragsdale 176-142 to capture her first NWIJTPA career title at the Illinois Open. Bugno, who qualified as the #3 seed, became the first high school player to capture a girls title in the past four events.

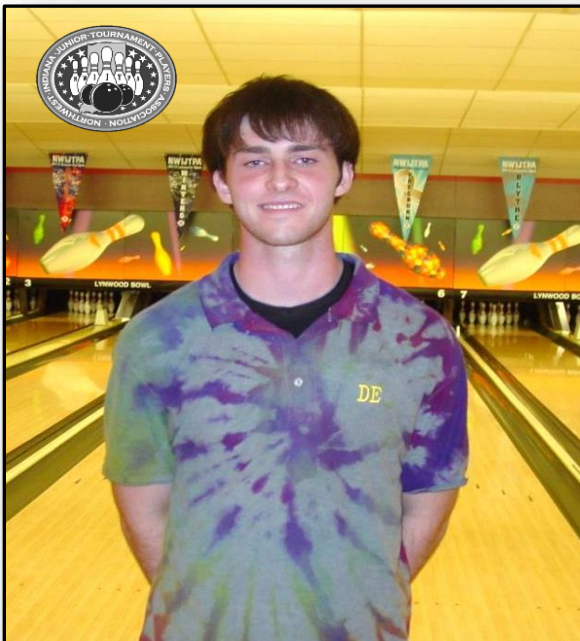

Bugno was joined in the championship round by seven other competitors. During the double elimination segment, the first time champion went unbeaten, defeating Aurora's Samantha Perez 176-143, Ragsdale 232-162, and Perez for a second time 87-168. Ragsdale's route to the finals required a few more games. After handing Cicero Indiana sophomore Keagan Trexler 177-133, she fell to Bugno, then rebounded with victories over Monmouth University sophomore Maritza Darling-Ramos 184-139, Chesterton senior Sarah Voiers 188-169 and 201-141.

Other finalists on the girls side included Indiana Tech sophomore Annalee Sisk, and Lake Central senior Liana Motel. Voiers led all qualifiers to earn the event's free entry while Voiers and Perez captured junior gold spots.

The girls field averaged slightly over 157 on what proved to be a very difficult WTBA Montreal pattern. Scholarship winners were Bugno, Ragsdale, Voiers, Perez, Motel, and Darling-Ramos.

EGGERT

Wisconsin Whitewater incoming freshman David Eggert earned his first NWIJTPA title in a hard fought electrifying 243-235 decision over Munster Indiana and Andean senior Kevin McCune. With the match still undecided, Eggert, the #3 seed, stepped up in the tenth and delivered three clutch strikes to secure the win.

McCune, the 8th seed, had to survive a roll-off with Griffith sophomore Christopher Albanese as both tied for the final qualifying spot following six games of competition. Awaiting McCune in the first round was top-seeded Ryan Winters, another Wisconsin Whitewater incoming freshman from Livonia, Michigan. McCune defeated Winters 232-214, and followed that win with a victory over Chicago's Connell Kelleher 210-182, and a second win over Winters 226-206. Eggert's road the finals included wins over Davenport University sophomore Sean Taylor, Fremont MI's Sam Brandt (Davenport University) and again Taylor who emerged from the contender's bracket with wins over Calumet College freshman Zachary Heater and Kelleher. Other finalists included Sandwich, IL's Jarrod Scents. All eight boys finalists earned scholarship awards.

The boys field averaged 168.9 during qualifying. Winters captured the high qualifier award while Junior Gold spots were awarded to Christopher Albanese and Jakob Sisk.

Hanover Central freshman Marissa Metcalfe earned a scholarship for the top U15 finisher.

Special thanks to Bob Carlson and his staff at Lynwood Bowl for their great support.

The next event is scheduled for Sunday September 18 Plaza Lanes in Highland, Indiana.
